THE ESTATE - DRIPPING SPRINGS GATEWAY TO TEXAS WINE COUNTRY

Dripping Springs Texas isn't just known as the "Gateway to the Texas Hill Country", it has also become the gateway to the Texas Hill Country American Viticultural area, because with elevations approaching 1300 feet and lime rock soil, the Terroir for vineyards is among the best that the United States has to offer.

Regions throughout the world have proven that vineyard agriculture, unlike any other agricultural operation, fuels healthy tourism and contributes positive economic impact for airlines, hotels, transportation services, restaurants, shops, and local real estate, and Solaro Estate is doing its part.

Solaro's awarded wines and reputation among wine aficionados continue to put the Texas Hill Country American Viticultural area on the map. Every region with character needs a vibe. The Solaro vineyards - Dripping Springs create ambiance that pairs with the friendliness and farming roots that make Dripping Springs a destination.
