4 Solaro wines to have during the winter time

Written by Yuliia Nahorna

As winter's chill embraces the landscape, there's something truly enchanting about savoring a glass of wine that complements the cozy ambiance. From rich reds to crisp whites, Solaro offers a delightful opportunity to explore a spectrum of flavors that perfectly align with the winter spirit.

Robust Red 2021 Tempranillo for Fireside Warmth:

As winter calls for warmth, savor the velvety, smoky embrace of our 2021 Tempranillo. This robust red, with bold flavors and a full-bodied character, is like a comforting hug on chilly evenings. Ideal with hearty stews, roasted meats, and nights spent by the fireplace, it turns every moment into a cozy celebration of winter indulgence.

Crisp Sauvignon Blanc or refreshing Viognier to Cut through the Chill:

In the midst of winter's rich reds, discover the charm of crisp whites. Whether it's a refreshing flowery Viognier or a zesty peachy Sauvignon Blanc, these wines offer a breath of fresh air, cutting through the winter chill with elegance. Perfect for complementing creamy pastas or as a delightful pre-dinner aperitif, these whites bring a touch of sophistication to winter gatherings.

Rich Solaro Port for cozy winter moments:

Indulge in the luxurious escape of Solaro Port wine on winter nights. This fortified wine, rich and velvety with deep, complex flavors, evokes a cozy fireside embrace. Elevate your evenings with decadent desserts or pair it with a cheese board featuring blue cheese, nuts, and dark chocolate.

The Tex Chronicles

Tex's training is coming along nicely. He is pointing and retrieving quail and pheasant. What a handsome boy!
